We will welcome you on the evening of October 22 for a cocktail following our first day of discussions and will cover your lunches during the two days of the event. Outside of these times, you are free to dine wherever you wish. Here are a few restaurants we recommend:

Brasserie des prés

-  6 Cour Du Commerce Saint-André, 75006 Paris
-  6-minute walk from the venue

La Brasserie des Prés offers a quintessential Parisian dining experience, featuring fresh, locally sourced, homemade dishes such as the classic Paris-Brest or traditional œufs mimosa, served in a warm and authentic atmosphere.

La Jacobine

-  59 Rue Saint-André des Arts, 75006 Paris
-  5-minute walk from the venue

Located in Cour Saint-André des Arts, this French restaurant offers a warm atmosphere reminiscent of Balzac's novels and serves refined, authentic French cuisine. Advance reservations are recommended.

Maslow

-  14 quai de la Mégisserie, 75001 Paris
-  10-minute walk from the venue

A trendy vegetarian restaurant with a large terrace, it offers small vegetarian plates. Far from the clichés of meatless cuisine, Maslow presents an inventive and delicious menu, reimagining dishes from around the world.

Breizh café odéon

-  1 Rue de l'Odéon, 75006 Paris
-  7-minute walk from the venue

A Breton classic, this unpretentious creperie serves tasty galettes on a lovely terrace, featuring seasonal specials: salmon galette with sugar snap peas and asparagus, or strawberry crêpe with Kampot pepper compote.
